The Woman Inside of Me Jae Escoto, 2019-05-20 Jae Escoto is a Filipino trans man who has performed spoken word poetry and competed in poetry slam competitions since 2006. Jae holds a bachelor's degree from California State University San Marcos, double-majoring in Literature and Writing and Women's Studies, and minoring in Philosophy. Jae also holds a master's degree in Women's Studies from San Diego State University. The voices in this book are representative of the author and the woman who lives inside of him (narrated in italics) as they journey through their transition from woman to man. The Woman Inside Of Me is Jae Escoto's daring narrative to take us into the struggles of becoming our fiercest selves. Everything that I have witnessed in Escoto's spoken word work on stage is in this collection, an epic slam poem with an insightful self-probing that moves the reader to haunting depths and breathtaking heights. Here is a literary work that unfolds with layers of poetic passages and dialogue that are sharp as truth, a truly Filipinx work that explodes the foundation of genders and what it means to love and its fragility. A stunning piece of art from beginning to end, intense and full of glorious epiphanies. -Regie Cabico, Poet & Publisher Capturing Fire Press In this multigenre work, Jae Escoto chronicles the year he comes out as a trans man and prepares himself for hormone treatments. The dual and dueling voices in The Woman Inside of Me speak with uncertainty, fear, anger, pain, determination, compassion, and love. Escoto's language, tonal shifts, and multiple genres evoke an immediacy that positions the reader as witness unable and unwilling to look away from his wonderfully terrible struggle to be 'unapologetically' he/him. --- Catherine Cucinella, Ph.D., Assistant Professor (retired) California State University San Marcos; author, Poetics of the Body: Edna St. Vincent Millay, Elizabeth Bishop, Marilyn Chin, and Marilyn Hacker (Palgrave). In his electrifying debut book, Jae Escoto plunges the reader deep into the personal dialogue underlying his journey to live as his fullest self. He makes it impossible for us to see our world as separate from his story, or from the many complicated stories that follow us every day. Escoto's genius is his emotional accuracy. He pens a stunningly authentic voyage all his own. In this, he empowers all of us to breathe more of our own air into our own lives, regardless of what already sits inside of us. -- Matt Storm, transgender artist and curator, leadership team member of the LGBTQ Caucus of the Society for Photographic Education, inaugural fellow of STABLE Arts

Rhonda Rhonda Dale Hoyman, 1999 For 48 years Ron had no sense of self-worth. Since age five Ron knew he was a female trapped in a male body. As years went by, his inner conflict and sense of helplessness became too painful to bear.

The Woman in Me Marlene Clark, 2020 Willem de Kooning's six numbered Woman paintings have incited a maelstrom of critical controversy. At their debut in 1953, the critics were incensed by the ugliness of the images themselves and by the inclusion of vestiges of the figure in abstraction. Consequently, they questioned de Kooning's attitude toward women and commitment to the Abstract Expressionist project. Countering such objections to de Kooning's psychological state and artistic goals, Marlene Clark's The Woman in Me: Willem de Kooning, Woman I-VI argues that these canvases could be read as self-portraits, negating claims of misogyny and explaining the presence of figuration amidst abstraction. On a number of occasions, de Kooning admitted that the images on these canvases were me--but with big shoulders. The Woman in Me focuses on de Kooning's propensity to play with the sexed body in his paintings. Clark argues that earlier criticism may have missed a more philosophical dimension of de Kooning's paintings, one that explores the malleability of representations of biological sex and the male/female binary.

A Woman Like Me Bettye LaVette,David Ritz,2014-02-26 As a teenager in Detroit, Bettye LaVette scored a hit single with 'My Man - He's a Lovin' Man.' But by twenty, she had faded into obscurity. Despite her association with legends like Aretha Franklin, Otis Redding, Marvin Gaye, and James Brown, bad luck smashed LaVette's hopes again and again. Then, after forty years of singing in clubs, her unforgettable performances at the 2008 Kennedy Center Honors and at President Obama's preinaugural concert put her back in the spotlight with unflinching honesty, LaVette boldly recounts her ride from the peaks to the pits and back to the top, where she so rightly belongs. Poignant, brazen, and fearless, A Woman Like Me is a tour de force from one of the most outspoken female performers singing today - and she's a force to be reckoned with. 'This is her own story, in her own words. What else could you need to know?' Elvis Costello 'Bettye makes no apologies.' Jon Bon Jovi 'A candid, offbeat, and gloriously unapologetic memoir by one of the greatest soul singers of all time.' The Christian Science Monitor 'Powerful.' The Village Voice 'Raw and riveting.' Minneapolis Star Tribune

The Woman in Me Elizabeth Ewudiwa,2021-04-06 This book is a collection of 16 well selected poems from my archives, befitting to inspire hope, embrace the journey of life and discuss social norms. To me, this collection is everything about life, and being a woman is just part of it. As much as possible, they do not seek to condemn or criticise but to inform and give corrective feedback.I encourage focus group discussions about this collection.

My personal favourites are Baby Shower, Dear Esi (Letter from the dead) and Dear Elizabeth (God's Oath). I hope that you do not read them in a haste but that you do, in the circumspection of your heart. Let these poems educate, reform and transform you. I know you will relate to some more than others. My hope is that every reader finds at least one poem that fits enough to tell their story back to them. Finally, I encourage that you do not despise your life and you don't lose track of how far you have come. Life is measured in progress, not in position, so keep moving. We may have flashbacks of the past, it doesn't disqualify us from featuring in the future. Our lives are movies and we are the superstars. The hero always win, and at least for most movies. Stay strong and beautiful.

The 30-Day Journey to Loving the Woman in Me Reyna Joy Banks,2020-01-22 What is keeping you from falling in love with you? You may not be able to answer this question just yet, but I challenge you to write it down in your journal, and when it comes to the appointed time . . . You will be able to answer this question and allow God to restore all that was lost so you can begin to love again, and most of all love you just the way you are! The 30-Day Journey to Loving the Woman in Me is a day-by-day process to help you take the steps necessary to be released into loving you in the way that is needed in order to be free, healed, and able to love others all around you past your own understanding. Most of you are thinking, I do love myself, I love me some me, I am all for me, and I take care of me! I can go on and on about what you think loving yourself is . . . My question to you now is, How do you know you truly, genuinely and whole heartedly love you? Before you answer that question take a look back on your past seasons in life and even some of your current seasons in your life. Step by step and day by day, I with God's guidance will help you get to that place by taking you on a journey of understanding the truth of what it takes to truly and wholeheartedly loving you. You may not want to go to certain places emotionally, but if you really want a change to come, you have to go to some of the most uncomfortable, darkest places and moments that tainted your love for you, and the love that God is offering to you and allow God to shine his light on each wound and each scar so you can be wiped clean and set free to love and be loved for eternity.
