Blood Sacrifices of the Old Testament T. Ernest Wilson,2009-02 Better understand the meaning and purpose of the Offerings and how they were all pointing forward to the Lamb of God and His one Sacrifice offered at Calvary, is the purpose of this book. T. Ernest Wilson takes us through the different Books of the Old Testament including the Psalms and Minor Prophets. He explains the Eternal Plan, Purpose and Promise of God in revealing His love toward the sinner and his sin. Also, the acceptance of man into the presence and family of a Holy God. It reminds us of the precious Blood that was shed by the Lamb of God to provide Redemption and Reconciliation for the sons of Adam. The reader of this book is encouraged to have their Bible at hand to read the Scripture references found throughout the text. The result for the reader of this book and studying the Scriptures relating to the Blood Sacrifices should be a greater appreciation for the Lord Jesus their Saviour, Substitute and Redeemer. Mr. T. Ernest Wilson was a missionary to Angola, Bible student and Teacher of the Scriptures who appreciated the study of the Offerings of the Old Testament. He has provided an excellent presentation of the different Sacrifices found throughout Scripture.

The Art of Remembering Gwendolyn DuBois Shaw,2024-03-01 In The Art of Remembering art historian and curator Gwendolyn DuBois Shaw explores African American art and representation from the height of the British colonial period to the present. She engages in the process of rememory—the recovery of facts and narratives of African American creativity and self-representation that have been purposefully set aside, actively ignored, and disremembered. In analyses of the work of artists ranging from Scipio Moorhead, Moses Williams, and Aaron Douglas to Barbara Chase-Riboud, Kara Walker, Kehinde Wiley, and Deana Lawson, Shaw demonstrates that African American art and history may be remembered and understood anew through a process of intensive close looking, cultural and historical contextualization, and biographic recuperation or consideration. Shaw shows how embracing rememory expands the possibilities of history by acknowledging the existence of multiple forms of knowledge and ways of understanding an event or interpreting an object. In so doing, Shaw thinks beyond canonical interpretations of art and material and visual culture to imagine “what if,” asking what else did we once know that has been lost.

Postcolonial Hauntologies: African Women's Discourses of the Female Bod Ayo A. Coly,2019-06-01 Postcolonial Hauntologies is an interdisciplinary and comparative analysis of critical, literary, visual, and performance texts by women from different parts of Africa. While contemporary critical thought and feminist theory have largely integrated the sexual female body into their disciplines, colonial representations of African women's sexuality “haunt” contemporary postcolonial African scholarship which—by maintaining a culture of avoidance about women's sexuality—generates a discursive conscription that ultimately holds the female body hostage. Ayo A. Coly employs the concept of “hauntology” and “ghostly matters” to formulate an explicative framework in which to examine postcolonial silences surrounding the African female body as well as a theoretical framework for discerning the elusive and cautious presences of female sexuality in the texts of African women. In illuminating the pervasive silence about the sexual female body in postcolonial African scholarship, Postcolonial Hauntologies challenges hostile responses to critical and artistic voices that suggest the African female body represents sacred ideological-discursive ground on which one treads carefully, if at all. Coly demonstrates how “ghosts” from the colonial past are countered by discursive engagements with explicit representations of women’s sexuality and bodies that emphasize African women’s power and autonomy.

The Street Life Series: Is It Passion or Revenge? Kevin M. Weeks,2008-01-17 When the pieces of a masterfully crafted puzzle are scattered all over Washington D.C. and P.G. County Maryland, quick witted and statuesque D.C. Detective Hanae Troop must uncover who is responsible for leaving colorful deadly weapons at each crime scene. The killer, who goes by the name of The Paradox, is on a mission to murder D.C.s #1 male exotic dancers, all for a personal vendetta that stretches all the way back to Philadelphia. There is national attention because of a highly visible protest right in the middle of the U.S. Capitol lawn. For sure, the Feds are out to take over the case from D.C.s Homicide Division. The outstanding reputation of the department rests on the shoulders of Detective Troop. Will she discover that the killings are tied to Teco Jackson, who is known as a snitch in the City of Brotherly Love? Or will Detective Troop find that these crimes stem from a jealous rage? One thing is certain. Teco is wedged in the middle of the Chocolate Citys most infamous murders; and Detective Troop has to decide if she is going to cuff Teco or protect him. Ultimately, she finds herself in a strange predicament when she comes face to face with The Paradox. The question remains, are these crimes of passion or revenge? Carl Weber Presents Ride or Die Chick 2 J.M. Benjamin,2014-10-01 According to Teflon Jackson, she has nothing else to live for. Having lost the only man she ever truly loved to the streets of Virginia, and missing the child she gave up for adoption, she can't decide whether to continue to ride out her current predicament or end her life to meet up with her other half—until she is given another reason to live. Richard Robinson, a.k.a. Rich Gunz, the father of Treacherous Freeman, finds a way to reach out to Teflon while finishing up his last ten years in federal prison for armed robbery. Instantly the two form a father-daughter relationship thicker than thieves from behind the prison walls. Upon his release, Rich vows to find the whereabouts of his grandchild and to do everything in his power to aid Teflon in her situation. He re-enters the streets of Virginia after being absent for nearly three decades. With a second chance at life, Teflon is faced with the decision to live the way society deems best, or become a ride or die chick once again.
